Growth may see town boundaries redrawn

Blue skies ahead for our Charity of the Year

Oxfordshire Guardian's Charity of the year 2016

AFTER a close competition and more than 1,300 votes cast, Oxfordshire Guardian readers have picked our Charity of the Year for 2016.

Abingdon-based brain tumour research charity Blue Skye Thinking has emerged the victors of a hard-fought poll.

It was founded by Andrew and Sally Hall after the tragic death of their five-year-old son Skye (pictured right).

Abingdon borders may have to move to swallow housing

By Alex Ballinger

LARGE scale housing developments on the outskirts of Abingdon could lead to the boundaries of the town being redrawn in the coming years, according to town bosses.

Councillors fear the 158-home Drayton Road development, being built on the southern edge of the town could be the first step towards Abingdon merging with Drayton village and eventually Didcot as the two towns grow.

Leader of Abingdon Town Council Sandy Lovatt also said he wants to push to extend the northern boundary of the town to secure money from a future 900-home development planned for off Twelve Acre Drive and Dunmore Road.

But Cllr Lovatt added he is concerned about a merger with Didcot.

He said: "Abingdon is pretty much up to its border limits.

"I'm more worried about Drayton, Milton and Didcot because of the developments.

"It's mainly about identity and also we need the Green Belt in between.

"It's a human thing. We don't want to be subsumed by something else."

Work on the controversial Drayton Road development started last year after a long battle between developers and residents that started in 2012.

Abingdon town councillor Mike Badcock strongly opposed the development and also said he is concerned about Abingdon growing into Drayton.

He said: "It's within the old boundary of the town but its getting closer and closer to Drayton all the time.

"I hope we maintain our border between the village and the town.

"If we don't it will never be the same again."

Plans are also in the works to build up to 900 homes on Green Belt land in north Abingdon after

Police appeal to find football hooligans

NEW images have been released of men in connection with a major disorder that took place earlier this year between Oxford United and Millwall FC fans.

Thames Valley Police released pictures on Monday of six men they would like to speak to in connection with Operation Brazil, which was launched after a match between the two sides on February 2. All of the six men (pictured) were seated in the Millwall section of the crowd and the appeal has been shared with the Metropolitan Police Service.

Sergeant James Blackmore, who is leading the investigation, said: "This operation sends out a clear message that we will not tolerate this type of behaviour at football matches in the Thames Valley. We will proactively arrest and deal robustly with anyone causing disorder, it is irrelevant which team they are to support. Football should be accessible to all and there is no place for these so-called supporters."

A horse from the force's mounted section called Odin received a cut to his leg from a bottle in the disorder, while another horse was also hit on the head by a bottle. Anyone with information is asked to call police on 101.

Girl hospitalised

OXON: A 17-year-old girl from Oxfordshire is being treated in hospital with life-threatening injuries after her car collided with a tree in Hampshire on Saturday. The teenager's silver Citroen Saxo crashed in Amesbury Road, Weyhill, near Andover, on the junction of Wire Mead lane between 3.45am and 4.40am.

Missing dogs

OXON: A £1,000 reward has been offered for three dogs that were stolen from a family home kennels in Faringdon last weekend.

Two all-white Japanese Spitzes and a black and white Cocker Spaniel have been missing since 11am on Saturday. One Japanese Spitz has been found by police and returned to its owners.

Anyone with information is asked to call 01367241063.

Guilty plea

WALLINGFORD: A woman has pleaded guilty to causing the death of a Wallingford cyclist by dangerous driving.

Maria Sutton, 27, of Newlands Way, Cholsey previously pleaded not guilty but changed her plea at Oxford Crown Court on Tuesday.

Sutton was remanded in custody and is to be sentenced at the same court on May 19.

West Hanney schoolgirl killed after accident on The Cotswold Hunt

A NINE-YEAR-OLD girl from West Hanney died on Saturday after an accident while riding a horse during a hunt.

Bonnie Armitage, a pupil at a private school near Faringdon, suffered serious injuries after an incident involving another horse at a farm in Gloucestershire while on The Cotswold Hunt.

She was flown to hospital by air ambulance where she later died.

Fellow horse riders online have been paying tribute to the St Hugh's School student by posting horseback pictures of themselves wearing blue.

Headteacher of St Hugh's, Andrew Nott, said: "The entire school community was devastated to learn of the tragic death of one of our pupils, Bonnie Armitage, following a riding accident on Saturday.

"Bonnie, the daughter of a member of our staff, was a truly lovely, talented girl who was bright, kind, compassionate, gentle and full of joy.

"Our love, thoughts and prayers are with her parents, Nick and Polly, and siblings, Zach and Mamie at this profoundly difficult time."

It is believed Bonnie was kicked in the chest by another horse while riding.

Her dad Nick Armitage is deputy headteacher at the school, which costs up to £5,960 a term.

In a statement, the joint masters of The Cotswold Hunt said: "A sense of overwhelming shock and sadness is with us all as we try to come to terms with Bonnie's family's shattering loss and grief.

"We hope that the strength of our community together with the power of our prayers and the sincerity of our condolences will be of some comfort to the family."

Spokesperson for Gloucestershire Constabulary, Christopher Jackson, said officers were called to the hunt at Miserden at around 1pm.

He added a nine-year-old girl suffered serious injuries and was taken to the Gloucestershire Royal Hospital in Gloucester where she died later that day.

Houses recommended for approval by officers

PLANS to build 93 homes on green land in Sutton Courtenay have been recommended for approval despite strong objections from councillors and residents.

Council officers recommended the development off the B4016 Appleford Road for approval despite objections from around 61 people.

Residents raised concerns the houses could be vulnerable to flooding and cause more traffic.

Mr and Mrs Chung, who live nearby, are among those who submitted their objections to Vale of White Horse District Council ahead of the meeting next Wednesday.

They said: "This is a beautiful field with lovely views, lots of wildlife that we study from our garden including pheasants, partridges, deer, foxes, rabbits and many other smaller birds, doesn't this count for anything anymore?

"[It is] ruining another beautiful historic village.

"The risk of even more flooding would only be enhanced by more housing.

"There are also many other large developments under construction in the village already."

Sutton Courtenay Parish Council also filed its opposition to the plans.

Parish clerk Linda Martin said: "The parish council strongly objects to the proposal.

"The site sits north of Appleford Road and east of Abingdon Road.

"The village is already facing more development elsewhere causing the village to double in size but without improvements to infrastructure.

"The parish council does not believe it is acceptable to suggest that the increase in vehicles resulting from this proposal would not impact the junction, when other development have not been taken into account and there is a clear statement that the Abingdon Road/Appleford Road junction is currently approaching capacity."

Vale council's planning committee is set to make a decision either approving or rejecting the outline application at a meeting in The Beacon in Portway, Wantage next Wednesday evening from 6.30pm.

A statement from London-based applicant Savills said: "The proposals would deliver new homes needed for the local area [and] provide a safe and secure environment in which it is pleasant to live and play while respecting the character and quality of the surroundings."

Merger concerns for Oxford and Didcot

a screening opinion request - the very early stages of planning - was submitted to Vale of White Horse District Council last year.

The development would go on land in the parishes of Radley and Sunningwell, south of Lodge Hill and east of the A34, and would include sports pitches, a primary school and open space.

It would form part of the 20,560 homes to be built by 2031 included in the Vale local plan.

Cllr Lovatt has called for the northern boundary of the town to be redrawn so Abingdon would benefit from the Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) from the town- a payment by the developers to local infrastructure.

The CIL could be in the region of £1.56million, according to Cllr Lovatt.

But the development has been opposed by local groups over fears of the destruction of the Green Belt and merging between Abingdon and Oxford.

Director of the Campaign to Protect Rural England (CPRE) Oxfordshire, Helen Marshall said: "These would represent a thorough extermination of the Green Belt in this area, a Green Belt that separate the two separate, but very different, ancient historic towns of Abingdon and Oxford.

"So far, there seems to have been no adequate consideration given to the cumulative impact of all the proposed development.

"We do not believe that there is any public mandate for such significant changes."

Abingdon Spring Head boat race

ABINGDON: This Sunday will mark the Abingdon Spring Head boat race, which will see around 400 rowing crews from across the UK descend on the town.

The course will follow a 2,000m route along the River Thames, finishing near the grounds of Abingdon Cricket Club.

Spectators can watch from Rye Meadow near Abingdon Bridge from 9.30am to 4.30pm.

House plan filed

ABINGDON: A planning application has been submitted to demolish an electrical substation to build a single storey one bedroom house in Ock Street.

The application was made by SSE electricity and gas company.

A target decision date for officers to decide on the plans has been set for Thursday, May 26.

A planning application was submitted on March 11.

Safety pack offer

ABINGDON: Personal safety packs including an alarm torch, UV property marking pens and a 'no cold callers' stickers are on sale at Abingdon Police Station.

Thames Valley Police is offering the packs for sale for £4 to improve people's safety.

They can be bought from the police station in Colwell Drive.

Village to have £50m overhaul?

By Loughlan Campbell

A MASTERPLAN to 'regenerate' the village of Berinsfield that could lead to a new school, new church and new leisure centre may cost as much as £50 million.

South Oxfordshire District Council's (SODC) cabinet is due to meet today to discuss a report which, if approved, would first see the local authority channel £1.5m of funding into a feasibility study called 'Berinsfield Regeneration'.

As part of the study the council would work with the community to outline a scheme of works to improve or rebuild its school, Abbey Woods Academy in Wimblestraw Road, Abbey Sports Centre in Green Furlong, and St Mary & St Berin Church of England School in Cherwell Road.

Included would be plans for 109 new homes for the village, and a review of Berinsfield's green belt.

SODC council leader John Cotton, who also represents Berinsfield, told the Guardian: "We are talking about tens of millions of pounds that could be spent on the village. As high as £50 million.

"There is a lot that will need to be discussed in this study before we start thinking about how many more houses the village needs, or what could be knocked down.

"There is a possibility we could knock down houses and rebuild them to a much higher quality.

"The whole project would be an enormous undertaking for the council and I think it's an extremely exciting time for Berinsfield residents."

The village was originally built with 228 homes as a predominantly council-owned housing estate in the 1960s.

Since then, more housing has been brought forward but its green belt boundaries have remained the same.

The village now has almost 1,200 homes.

The housing mix is around 50 per cent social housing and 50 per cent tenant housing, according to Berinsfield Parish Council vice-chairman Stuart Scott-Ely.

Cllr Scott-Ely said: "Regeneration is of course something that we are in support of and we understand that more housing will come with this study.

"However, it does come as a shock that they are looking to spend £1.5m of taxpayer's money on a study. We're excited about the prospect of a new church and new school, however these plans absolutely must have public consultation as we have a lot of unanswered questions."

If the cabinet decides to commission the study, a masterplan would be developed by December 2017 with a view to start building works by April 2019.

Paedo serving 18 years jailed for seven more

AN 83-YEAR-OLD ex-Salvation Army charity worker already behind bars was jailed for another seven years on Monday for raping a girl and sexually assaulting another.

James Summers, formerly of Lyndene Road, Didcot, was found guilty after a trial at Oxford Crown Court of two counts of rape of a child under 14 and two counts of indecent assault on a girl under 14.

The rapes took place against a victim in Didcot between June 14, 1999, and June 14, 2000, and the indecent assaults on a second victim were between July 27, 1995, and July 27, 1996.

He received seven years for each count of rape and two years for each count of indecent assault, all to run concurrently. He is serving an 18-year sentence after being jailed in 2012 for other similar sexual offences.

Cruise in Oxford

OXFORD: Hollywood megastar Tom Cruise was spotted by Oxford residents filming for adventure film remake The Mummy in Catte Street on Sunday.

The action legend was filming scenes with co-star Oxford-born Annabelle Wallis by the Radcliffe Camera and stopped by to take some selfies with fans.

The film, which is a reboot of Stephen Sommer's The Mummy series, is being directed by Alex Kurtzman and is set to hit cinemas in June 2017.

Hundreds queue up for fantasy film casting call

• Hopeful Georgina Young, 18

• The queue at Wallingford School

By Loughlan Campbell

HUNDREDS hoping to clinch an extra role in a Game of Thrones-style TV film shooting in Oxfordshire flocked to Wallingford on Monday for open casting auditions.

Almost 300 people filed into a queue at Wallingford School that weaved around the sports hall and out the door.

They were vying for a part in an adaptation of 'The Last Dragon Slayer', based on Jasper Fforde's novel of the same name.

The TV adaptation, reported to be in the works by Sky One, starts shooting in the county at the end of this month.

One hopeful looking for an on-screen spot is Bampton resident Adam Laister who bagged screen time in Clint Eastwood's 2014 Iraq War epic American Sniper that starred Hollywood heavyweight Bradley Cooper.

He told the Guardian: "I got really lucky with that as I happened to be out in Taghazout (Morocco) when they were filming and I was just in the right place at the right time. I was dressed up as a solider and I had the whole outfit with the assault rifle. It was pretty crazy."

The 25-year-old added: "Clint was such a nice guy, he really made everyone feel okay on the set. I hope the experience will stand me in good stead."

'The Last Dragon Slayer' is set in a world where magic exists in a weak form, and modern technology is more commonly used.

Part of Fforde's Chronicles of Kazam series, the plot focuses on 15-year-old Jennifer Strange, who runs an employment agency for magicians and sets out to save the last dragon after finding out it is being hunted.

During the auditions two casting crew members quizzed people with quirky questions to get a feel for their personality before taking contact details and a photo.

Georgina Young, 18, was another casting hopeful doing a foundation course in musical theatre at Reed Dance and Theatre College in Reading.

She said: "I've always wanted to be an actress so I thought why not go for this and get experience. I think it's all about if you fit the part and I think I've got a good chance."

Sarah Bradford, Wallingford School's leisure centre manager, said the queue was out the door when casting started at 4pm. She added: "We were told to expect about 50 or 60 people and it's been so busy with just a constant flow of people."

Tara Keenan, the production's crowd co-ordinator, told the Guardian filming is top secret so she could not reveal any star names cast in the main roles.

It starts shooting in Snowdonia, North Wales, this month before moving to shoot in Oxfordshire until the end of next month. She said: "We have a few locations booked for filming but not everything's quite finalised yet so we can't reveal anything for the time being."

Play park delay

POOR weather conditions have been blamed for the delay in fully opening the new £160,000 revamped Bicester park (pictured).

The café opened at Easter as planned, but Bicester Town Council was forced to delay the opening of the play park as the landscaping is not yet complete.

Wet weather meant the turf had not taken and the grass seed not grown. The council say the park will open 'as-soon-as-possible' but only 'when safe and ready'.

Concerns about some of the play equipment, such as the rocks, were aired on social media, but the council said the playground had been fully safety checked and it is up to parents and guardians to ensure children use age appropriate play equipment.

Saviour Fare runs the new café, built on the foundations of the former eco demonstration house. It opens daily from 8am to 6pm, can cater for 100 people and will host mother and baby mornings, children's reading groups and craft workshops.

Cloudy2Clear Announce Which? Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Oxfordshire area from their local depots and manager James Miller agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Fresh appeal to find mother of dead baby

A NEW appeal has been launched to find the mum of a newborn girl found dead on a Marston footpath one month ago.

The baby was discovered near Edgeway Road on Monday, February 29.

Police relaunched an appeal on Friday calling for the mum to come forward for medical and emotional support.

Head of midwifery at Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital, Jane Herve, said: "We really want you to know that we want to care for you and we understand that it's a difficult time for you emotionally.

"I also want you to know that we're really thinking about you at this difficult time."

The mum is believed to have been between 14 and 21 years old.

The baby weighed about 8lbs and police believe she was left on the path between one and three days before she was found by a member of the public. They also said there were no signs of the newborn having been injured before she died.

The mum is being asked to called a midwife on 01865 740429. Members of the public with information can call Thames Valley Police on 101.

Follow the leaders

• Jeremy Corbyn (left) and Oxford East MP Andrew Smith

• Natalie Bennett in Oxford's Covered Market with a member of the public

By Alex Ballinger

PARTY leaders have been visiting Oxford to rally residents' support in the lead up to local council elections next month.

It was Jeremy Corbyn's first trip to the city since he was elected as leader of the Labour Party in September.

He took to the streets on Friday, knocking on doors to garner support for local councillors, before attending a rally at Wesley Memorial Church in New Inn Hall Street.

Green Party leader Natalie Bennett visited on Saturday in support of the three Green Oxford city councillors gunning for re-election in May.

During the morning Ms Bennett canvassed in central Oxford and held a question and answer session at East Oxford Community Centre in Princes Street.

Speaking after campaigning in Oxford, Mr Corbyn said: "My message for elections this May is clear: Labour is the best protection for your community against Tory cuts.

"In Oxford and across the country, on issues such as housing, low pay, health and crime, the Tories are simply standing by."

Oxfordshire residents will go to the polls on Thursday, May 5 to elect district or city councillors and their Police and Crime Commissioner.

Labour MP for Oxford East, Andrew Smith, said: "Since his election Jeremy has consistently spoken up on the issues that matter. It was great to have him here in Oxford."

Also speaking at the memorial church was Labour's candidate for Police and Crime Commissioner, Laetisia Carter, a West Oxfordshire district councillor for Chipping Norton.

Ms Bennett was also promoting five candidates hoping to gain seats.

Green Party councillor on Oxford City Council, Elise Benjamin, said: "It was fantastic to have her here. She's incredibly supportive and understands the importance of local councillors.

"We had a phenomenally supportive response from people."

While addressing supporters Ms Bennett said: "We're hoping to make history by making the Green Party the official opposition of Oxford City Council.

"Oxford has always been a natural stronghold for the Green Party. We've got the opportunity with these elections to turn Green surge of last year into Green seats."

Poaching fines

BLEWBURY: Five men have been fined £3,000 for trespassing to poach in Oxfordshire.

Lucas Dean, of The Ferns, Beaconsfield, Buckinghamshire, Charlie Haverley, 22, of Monksfield Way, Slough, Sheridan Coomer-Christian, 24, of Aylesworth Avenue, Slough, Thomas Jacob, 26, of Wordsworth Road, Slough, and Nathan Briggs, 24, of Doddlesfield Road, Slough, were sentenced at West Berkshire Magistrates' Court on March 31.

They were found guilty of night time trespassing to pursue game in Churn Estate, Blewbury, and fined £525 each.

Briggs was also fined £700 for driving a vehicle with illegal red diesel in it.

Officers arrested them on January 3 at around 11.40pm.

Grant scheme

THAME: Groups and organisations in Thame and Moreton that benefit local people can apply for a town council grant of up to £5,000.

Applications for the grant aid scheme are now open. It supports projects that develop skills, improve health, support the environment and help people become more active.

The closing date is 5pm on Tuesday, May 3, for more information call 01844 212833 or view thametowncouncil.gov.uk

Library open date

BICESTER: The town's new library will open its doors on Monday, April 11, in the new Franklins House building, in Pioneer Square.

The former library, in Old Place Yard, closed last month and staff have spent the past few weeks moving books to their new home.

The new facility will offer an improved services, including more computers, wifi and support to help people improve their IT skills, more book choice and regular activities such as rhyme-times for toddlers.

For a full story on Franklins House's completion, see right.

April fool

THAME: Residents in Thame may have been a little surprised when they woke up last Friday morning as the town council announced a plan to change the name of the town hall.

A newsletter said councillors agreed to rename it Causton Town Hall, like popular TV crime drama Midsomer Murders, which is filmed in Thame.

The prank, an April fool, went further to say the application to change the name had been submitted to South Oxfordshre District Council and a new sign had "been installed to coincide with an upcoming visit from Midsomer Murders fans from Denmark".

Bicester's £70 million regeneration complete

By Jayne Smith

THE final part of the £70 million Bicester town centre redevelopment is complete.

Franklins House will be home to a 53-bedroom Travelodge hotel, offices, Bicester's new library and Cherwell District Council's office. There are also shop and restaurant units.

• New Franklins House building is ready for new tenants

Work on the five-storey building has taken 15 months and it has been built over the former Franklin's Yard carpark.

It marks the final phase of the town centre regeneration project between Cherwell council and Sainsbury's.

Sainsbury's, Vue cinema and other shops and restaurant units opened in July 2013 completing the first phase.

> It signifies the start of a new beginning as Bicester moves towards a promising future

Cllr Norman Bolster, Cherwell's lead member for estates and economy, said: "In the past three years Bicester town centre has undergone a radical transformation to create new retail, leisure and business opportunities.

"The completion of Franklins House signifies the end of this project and the start of a new beginning as Bicester moves towards a promising future as a thriving Garden Town.

"The provision of a new hotel, offices and retail or restaurant opportunities at Franklins House will help to increase footfall in the town both during the day and at night.

"We are aware from our recent consultation that creating a bustling town centre is a key priority for people in Bicester so this all fits in with a bigger plan to increase footfall and attract new businesses to the town centre."

Bicester's new library will open on Monday, April 11, and will include a sections designated to Bicester Local History Society. Also based there will be a careers advisor and job club.

Oxfordshire County Council leader Ian Hudspeth said: "The new library will be bigger, offer more choice of books to borrow, more family activities and reading groups, and space for the Bicester Local History Society to exhibit and keep the history of the town alive."

Bob Hessian, chairman of Bicester Local History Society, said: "We look forward to being able to display and make available to the public artefacts, memorabilia, old photographs and other items related to Bicester and the surrounding area."

Solicitors' firm Brethertons will move into offices on both the ground and first floor and plan to open on April 25.

Online fraud warning

PEOPLE are being urged to ensure their computers and tablets are secure from fraudsters.

Action Fraud, part of the National Fraud Intelligence Bureau, has warned people across Oxfordshire to take measures to protect their computers, such as ensuring anti-virus software is up-to-date and pop-up blockers are working on web browsers.

Actions Fraud warned email scams were becoming more sophisticated and can appear to be from a legitimate organisation and asking you to open a link or attachment which can contain a virus or leave your data insecure.

A statement from Action Fraud said: "You are advised that if you are in any doubt as to the origin of an email, do not open it. Consider that emails can be spoofed and used to generate spam to recipients far and wide.

"If you receive a spam email, you must not open it. Instead, delete it from your email system to avoid infecting your device. If you have opened an attachment from a spam email, you should get your device checked over by a professional and change the passwords for all your bank, email and online shopping accounts."

And the winner is... Blue Skye Thinking

Oxfordshire Guardian's Charity of the year 2016

• Skye with some of his record breaking loom bands

• (From left) Skye's brother Jesse, dad Andrew, Skye and mum Sally

Stephen Mulhern @StephenMulhern · Mar 23
Well guys you have my vote and I hope everybody else that follows me will vote for you too. Lots and lots of love x

By Alex Ballinger

AFTER a huge response from our readers, the Oxfordshire Guardian Charity of the Year 2016 voting has closed and results are in.

More than 1,300 votes were cast in the poll for which of six charities we should support for the rest of the year.

We can now reveal the winner is Blue Skye Thinking.

The Abingdon-based childhood brain tumour charity even managed to recruit celebrity help on Twitter. TV presenter Stephen Mulhern voted for Blue Skye Thinking in the Oxfordshire Guardian Charity of the Year poll and urged others to follow suit.

The charity was launched by husband and wife Andrew and Sally Hall in tribute to their son Skye.

Mr Hall, a teacher at Abingdon School, said: "We are delighted with the news that we have been chosen by the public to be the Oxfordshire Guardian's Charity of the Year. It is truly humbling to have been recognised in this way and we are grateful to all those who took the time to vote.

"This comes at a very important time, not only for us as a charity, but for everyone involved in the funding and research of brain tumours."

Blue Syke Thinking's emotional start was in 2014 after four-year-old Skye Hall was diagnosed with an aggressive brain tumour. He died from the side effects of his treatment in August that year.

Sally, 37, and Andrew, 43, from Abingdon, launched the charity to give children diagnosed with cancer a better chance of survival by improving research into childhood brain tumours.

They announced at the end of last month the charity had raised enough money to fund a PhD researcher to join the paediatric brain tumour research group at the Northern Institute for Cancer Research in Newcastle.

The charity raised £120,000 to fund 24-year-old Gemma Llargues Sistac for a four-year post to identify drugs to be used to treat medulloblastoma, the kind of tumour Skye suffered from.

The charity was also given a massive boost when they were handed the Prime Minister's Points of Light award last year.

Mr Cameron said: "Skye was a wonderful young boy who inspired hundreds of people.

"Sally and Andrew have shown incredible strength in continuing Skye's work following his death."

And a world record has also been added to the charity's fast-growing list of achievements when they smash the world record for the longest loom band last year – a task Skye started while being treated in hospital.

The Hall family welcomed a new member last year with the birth of baby boy Flynn on September 13.

The other worthy charities shortlisted for the vote were Footsteps Foundation, Oxfordshire Mind, Helen and Douglas House, Aspire, and Special Effect.

Last call for solar shares

• Southill Community Energy

By Jayne Smith

RESIDENTS have until tomorrow to invest in a scheme aiming to generate cash for themselves and their community.

People have until April 8 to buy shares in Southill Community Energy, which is building a solar farm within the Cornbury estate.

Electricity generated from the solar panels for the next 25 years is to be fed into the local electricity grid providing enough electricity to power about 1,100 homes.

It will also reduce the area's carbon footprint by 2,350 tonnes a year for the lifetime of the project.

The Southill solar farm project was the brainchild of group Sustainable Charlbury, which was set up over concerns about climate change.

Because Charlbury and surrounding villages are part of the Cotswolds solar panels could not be put on roofs.

Instead the group hope to raise £3 million to create a solar farm - selling shares in the project for between £250 and £100,000.

Tim Crisp, director of Southill Community Energy, said: "This project has been led by the community from the start, and we've had to negotiate some tricky obstacles on the way, both during planning and with government changes to support for solar farms and community shares.

"We hope that Southill Solar will be a beacon of excellence on David Cameron's doorstep, demonstrating the positive power of community energy. It's energy democracy in action."

Mr Crisp hopes investors will get a five per cent annual return and community projects to improve energy efficiency will benefit to the tune of £750,000.

These include refurbishing Charlbury Corner House, a civic hub, to make it energy efficient.

Co-director Liz Reason said: "This will be one of the last chances to invest in a community solar farm following recent changes in government policy towards renewables.

"Investing in Southill Community Energy is a triple bottom line investment: good for the environment, good for the community, and good financially."

Plans for the site were approved in 2015 and the feed-in tariff application granted in the autumn.

Panels do not need direct sunshine to generate electricity as they work even when the weather is cloudy or overcast.

Shares can be bought.

SOUTH AND VALE: South Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse District Councils' chief executive David Buckle will oversee the upcoming election for the police and crime commissioner for the Thames Valley. People must be registered to vote by April 18. The election takes place on May 5.

Mr Buckle said: "Ten per cent of your council tax goes towards the police force's budget – the commissioner manages this budget, so it's your best chance to have a say in how your money is used."

Noise at Oxfordshire hospitals was same level as road drill

OXFORD University researchers have found the noise of intensive care units at Oxfordshire's hospital was around the same level of a road drill at night.

The study into noise levels at hospitals run by Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust was prompted by reports that patients in the unit were suffering from sleep deprivation during the night while staff carried out their duties.

The trust runs Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital, Churchill Hospital and Nuffield Orthopaedic Centre, all in Headington, and the Horton General Hospital in Banbury.

Concerns were raised that intensive care noise at hospitals around the country could potentially delay patients' recovery.

Researchers from Oxford's Kadoorie Centre for Critical Care Research and Education were handed a £280,000 grant from the National Institute for Health Research to investigate.

Professor Duncan Young of the Kadoorie Centre said: "High levels of noise make it harder for sleep, sleep deprivation leads to confusion and confusion is thought to complicate the healing process and slow recovery.

"Yet our research found that during the day, noise levels in an ICU are equivalent to those of a busy restaurant.

"While things are quieter at night, we still found sounds louder than 85 decibels – around the level of a road drill – were happening up to 16 times an hour."

Staff and patients have now designed a programme of noise-reducing changes.

These included providing quieter plastic bins at the unit, introducing new guidelines to ensure volume settings on equipment are appropriate, and providing staff at the hospitals run by the trust with online training to show how easily noise levels can rise.

Leaders lock horns over plan to reshuffle county's powers

By Alex Ballinger

A BATTLE over who will govern Oxfordshire has heated up after council leaders met in Banbury last Thursday to debate how the county will be run in the future.

Plans for a study to explore the options on how to reshuffle the way Oxfordshire is managed by its councils were raised by its four district councils and Oxford City Council. But they were opposed by Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) leader Ian Hudspeth, who wants to commission its own report.

Oxfordshire's district and city councils want to abolish over-arching Oxfordshire County Council and merge with neighbour areas to create four Oxfordshire 'unitary authority' councils also covering the Cotswold and South Northmaptonshire - to save millions.

But Oxfordshire County Council wants to eradicate all district councils and the city council to establish one Oxfordshire 'unitary authority' - to save an estimated £32 million.

Speaking at the Oxfordshire Growth Board meeting leader of Vale of White Horse District Council, Matthew Barber, said: "It's definitely a huge issue.

"I think the proposal put forward by the districts shows a strong case for the future of local government in Oxfordshire.

"I think the report commissioned by the seven districts moves that forward much more quickly than we've seen in the past."

The seven councils commissioning the study are Oxford city, Vale of White Horse, South Oxfordshire, West Oxfordshire, Cherwell, Cotswolds and South Northants. The savings would help offset a £15.2m black hole in the county council's budget.

Speaking about an OCC commissioned report Cllr Hudspeth said: "I welcome everybody to come on board and get this report done as soon as possible.

"I don't see why, if everybody is accepting the points that we've raised, we can't use our report as the basis for it."

OCC is concerned the district report would be biased in favour of the four council proposal.

The districts and city said their study has already been green lit by the Government's Department for Local Government and it would be a waste of tax payer's money to fund two.

Oxford University college gets green light to build new nursery

AN Oxford University college has been given planning permission to build a new nursery on its grounds.

St John's College in Bainton Road is hoping to open its nursery to children of students and staff by October this year.

The plans were approved by Oxford City Council last Wednesday.

The college's principal bursar, Professor Andrew Parker, said: "With so much pressure on nursery provision in and around Oxford, we believe that this new facility will be warmly welcomed by current students and staff requiring access to affordable, good quality childcare.

"We believe it will also be of great help in the future recruitment of high calibre students and college staff."

The building is to be transported to the site 'ready made' to cut down on the construction time.

Its roof will be covered in sedum plants to create a habitat for bees and other insects, and to absorb water.

Professor Parker added: "The nursery's innovative construction techniques will blend the best of historical and modern architecture and make the building itself a wonderful new direction for the college's activities."

Flat burglary

OXFORD: A student flat had it's basement window smashed in an overnight burglary in Oxford last Tuesday.

Offenders smashed the window to get into to the flat.

But it is still unknown what was stolen at this stage.

Motorbike stolen

OXFORD: A motorbike that was locked up and chained outside a home in Sunnymead was stolen last Tuesday.

An orange Sinnis Apache 125cc was stolen overnight as well as the chain that was attached to it.

Police recommend bikers should cover their bikes and consider investing in a ground anchor for increased security if possible.

Charity dinner

OXFORD: Tickets are now on sale for the Lord Mayor of Oxford's civic charity dinner next weekend.

Residents of Oxford, dignitaries and businesses are invited to join mayor Rae Humberstone from 7pm to Midnight at Oxford Town Hall in St Aldate's next Friday.

Tickets cost £40 and proceeds go to his chosen charities TRAX Motor Project, Blackbird Leys Adventure Playground and Parasol Project.

Alleyway robbery

KIDLINGTON: A 28-year-old man was robbed of £510 and a watch in Kidlington after withdrawing money from a bank.

The victim took out cash from NatWest and was walking along an alley between School Road and Mill Street when he was attacked by two men who took the money and an Ingersoll watch. He suffered a lump on his head, grazes on his face and a bruised chest.

The first offender is white, 5ft 9ins, and was wearing a black Superdry jacket with an orange logo and blue jeans. He also had a tattoo on his left hand.

The second is stocky, around 6ft 4ins, with a thin beard and no moustache. He was wearing a grey hoodie with matching grey tracksuit bottoms and sandy brown shoes. Call police on 101 with any information.

Work unveiled

OXFORD: Oxford Brookes University students are unveiling a research project posters in a university-wide conference next Friday. Dozens will present work from representation of food in 17th Century Dutch paintings to the radicalisation of terrorists. The Get Published! Student Research Conference runs from Midday until 2pm at Union Hall in the John Henry Brookes Building in Headington Road and is open to anyone.

Bid to kick-start next 'ice bucket challenge'

By Loughlan Campbell

THREE students from an Oxford school are bidding to replicate the viral success of the 'ice bucket challenge' with their own quest in aid of an Oxfordshire charity.

St Edward's pupils Carolina Rimoldi, Jess Lee and Ned Stewart, all 17, launched their campaign last month to raise money for mental health charity Restore.

It asks people to video themselves singing a song in a eight-second video, before tagging three friends through social media platforms Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and Vine, for them to do the same.

Miss Rimoldi told the Guardian: "We think it could be the next 'ice bucket challenge'.

"When we think of charities we think of people suffering and we thought that recording an eight-second video of people singing would help spread awareness in a more accessible way.

"We just want to help make people more aware about the great work Restore does and destroy the stigma that mental illness is something to be ashamed of."

The ice bucket challenge was a viral sensation in the summer of 2014 that saw millions of people record videos of themselves pouring ice-cold water over themselves.

It spread awareness for American non-profit foundation ALS that raises money to help combat amyotrophic lateral sclerosis – known as Lou Gehrig's disease.

Restore, headquartered in Manzil Way, Oxford, provides support and training to Oxfordshire residents dealing with mental health issues.

• Jess Lee, 17 and Carolina Rimoldi, 17 with singers in Camden, London

The trio came up with the idea for the campaign after Restore was selected as the school's charity of the year.

They visited Camden Town in London on March 20 to sing with strangers as part of their launch video for the campaign.

Miss Rimoldi added: "We headed to Camden to shoot the launch video and we got such a good response. It's a really unique idea and we think that it could really take off online as it's all about raising awareness for a really important cause whilst singing."

Hannah Feldman, community fundraiser at Restore, said: "When you look at what the ice bucket challenged did for ALS, we hope that this will lead to more people taking a look at the importance of addressing mental health.

"We think the whole idea of the campaign is wonderful. It's a fantastic opportunity to raise awareness of mental health and make the topic more accessible on social media."

Those looking to take part are asked to donate a £1 to Restore via justgiving.com/media4mentalhealth and share it on social media using the hashtag #media4mentalhealth

Police need help with puppy love

HOW would you like to look after a cuddly playmate?

Thames Valley Police is looking for puppy socialisers to help train the next generation of police dogs.

Residents would live with a puppy from eight weeks old until it is around a year old, introducing the dog to as many different experiences as possible.

Dave Hibbert, the force's puppy development manager, said: "The puppies grow from a cute bundle of fluff into a large, strong dog in a very short space of time.

"The puppies are not normal pet dogs, they are keen, enthusiastic and highly motivated, and as such they are not the type of dog that is happy to lie down all day sleeping. They are going to need lots of regular training, exercise and stimulation."

Woodstock to vote on plan for 280 new homes

By Loughlan Campbell

WOODSTOCK residents can vote on plans to build 280 homes on part of Blenheim Palace's estate in a town poll this month.

Voting will open next Thursday, April 14, on plans to build the homes on land south-east of the town.

The poll was proposed by Woodstock town councillor Sharone Parnes at an annual town meeting on March 15.

Cllr Parnes told the Guardian: "I felt that there was a big demand for a town poll at the meeting and that people felt strongly that we needed to develop a response.

"We're worried because we think Pye will revert back to their original proposals if they can get this application through and that seems to be the inevitable cause of action.

"I think the developers have had shortcomings in the past with the way they've dealt with residents in the past on these plans so I think we all expected they would come back with adjusted proposals."

Kidlington-based developers Pye Homes had plans to build 1,200 homes on the site rejected by West Oxfordshire and Cherwell district councillors last October.

Following the refusal, the developers scaled back the plans to 280 homes on green fields of Blenheim's estate off the A44 Oxford Road.

A planning application for the new proposal has not yet been submitted.

But a spokesperson for Pye Homes and the Blenheim Estate warned voting will not be properly representative.

They said: "The upcoming town poll won't necessarily reflect the views of those who are struggling to find a place to live, nor help local employers attract the work they need.

"We would prefer to work with the community on helping to provide new homes to help Woodstock remain a vibrant town."

Pye's original application was called 'Woodstock East' and included plans for a new football stadium for Old Woodstock Town Football Club, a 300-space park and ride, a 120-unit care home.

It also included plans for a new school south of Perdiswell Farm in Shipton Road – which crosses the boundaries of Cherwell and West Oxfordshire district councils.

Cherwell council received 844 objections from residents to the original plans.

The poll will ask residents the question: "Do you wish for the green fields including agricultural land of the south-east of Woodstock to be protected from development and urban sprawl?"

Two polling stations will be open at Woodstock Town Hall in the Market Place and Ryegrass in Flemings Road from 4pm to 9pm.

The study is being carried out by West Oxfordshire District Council officers.

It is expected the result of the poll will be revealed the same day.

Hopes riding high for Truck Festival 2016 as Kodaline is announced

• Kodaline

THE buzz around Oxfordshire's independent music weekend Truck Festival has been boosted after the third headliner was announced last week.

Irish chart-toppers Kodaline will be sharing the main stage with rap group Jurassic 5 and indie four-piece Mystery Jets at the top of the bill.

Since launching 18 years ago Truck Fest has seen some of the biggest names in indie and rock music strut their stuff, including Foals, The XX, Two Door Cinema Club and Biffy Clyro.

This year will also mark the festivals branching out from two days to three.

This year Truck Fest runs from Friday, July 15, until Sunday, July 17, at Hill Farm in Steventon.

Puzzles

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

New Horizons in Hearing

The new hearing aid from Widex pushes the barriers of performance. WIDEX UNIQUE takes digital processing to a new level to capture more sound than any other hearing aid on the market and is now available at Keith Donaghy Hearingcare.

Supreme sound quality in any environment.

Hearing soft sounds is particularly important for users but even more important is determining which are useful and which are not. UNIQUE is the only hearing aid that ensures important soft sounds are maintained and unwanted soft sounds are removed.

The powerful soft level noise reduction system reduces the soft sounds users do not want to hear while retaining the audibility of soft speech. And it determines the difference between speech and noise (particularly background noise) without any compromise in speech intelligibility or comfort.

The best wind noise reduction in the industry.

For users to truly enjoy being outdoors, it is essential that they can hear clearly no matter the conditions. The wind noise attenuation system in UNIQUE provides users with documented improvement in hearing speech and environmental sounds in the presence of wind noise.

Full connectivity

All unique hearing aids are compatible with the DEX range of communication accessories that provide full connectivity to mobile phones, remote controls, TVs and more.

NEW HORIZONS IN HEARING

Keith Donaghy warns prospective customers to be careful about misleading and inaccurate special offers and to consider that "you get what you pay for". He said that Keith Donaghy Hearing care is an independent company and can offer completely impartial advice and an aftercare service that is vital to make sure things run smoothly for the future of the client and their hearing aid system.

Its official. Hearing aids can do more than improve your hearing.

Following a survey carried out in 2015 by Anovum (a market research company) on 1325 hearing impaired people (605 hearing aid wearers and 720 not wearing hearing aids). The survey reports that hearing aids not only improve capabilities of hearing well but also improved the general health of hearing aid wearers compared to hearing impaired people who do not wear a hearing aid. Hearing aid users are less likely to think they have the symptoms of dementia, feel less physically and mentally exhausted, sleep better and are less likely to suffer from depression.

The survey confirms what some Audiologists have suspected for some time, that hearing aids are not only good for correcting hearing loss but in fact contribute to better and more active lives, better quality of life, and better overall health.

For the hearing impaired workers who wear a hearing aid it is reported that their hearing aids are useful for their job and that wearing the hearing aids also increases the chance of them getting promoted, being in the right job and getting more salary compared to those hearing impaired people who have not obtained hearing aids.

The survey also found that hearing impaired people are more likely to be teased or harassed because they don't wear a hearing aid compared to those that do.

The full report can be found at EuroTrak UK 2015 - ehima

A New York twist

HOT jazz and Western swing will be on the menu when New York-based band Hot Club of Cowtown arrives at The Bullingdon this Saturday, April 8.

By James Richings

Elana James (vocals and violin), Whit Smith (vocals and guitar) and Jake Erwin (double bass), arrive at the Cowley Road venue as part of a UK tour.

The trio are showcasing their newest album 'Midnight on the Trail', released in 2013.

Whit told the Guardian: "Our audiences have always been made up of many different kinds of music fans and of all ages.

"We have always played with a lot of energy and inspiration, but I think it is our sincerity and ability to play outwardly to the audience that makes us most attractive.

"We engage the audience and make them a part of the music and the show and we only play what we love and the concert is a comfortable and natural event."

Hot Club of Cowtown was named after the Hot Club of France, a duo made up of popular 20th Century swing artists Django Reinhardt on guitar and Stephen Grappelli on violin.

Their tracks encouraged Elana, Whit and Jake form their own band in 1998.

"Their recordings were a huge influence on us and so we gave tribute to them with our name, Hot Club of Cowtown," Whit explained.

"The latter was also obviously adding a bit of suitable western flavour to the name."

The last 18 years have seen the band perform all over the world.

In that time they have also released 13 albums and been nominated for numerous awards.

And the three do not plan on stopping their musical journey any time soon.

"You have got to follow your heart, listen to your brain, work extra hard, and the instrument will reward you," Whit added.

"If we want or expect our children who ultimately are the world's future, to like, love or appreciate any of the arts, we must expose them to it."

Friday's gig costs £19.25.

Doors open at 7pm.

Jack Garratt

LIVE MUSIC: Jack Garratt will be performing live at the O2 Academy in Oxford on Monday, April 11.

The 24-year-old, who won the BRIT Award for Critics' Choice last year, comes to the Cowley Road venue to perform tracks off his debut studio album 'Phase'.

Doors open at 7pm.

The gig has now sold out.

Magicomedy

COMEDY: Magic will merge with comedy for a night at The Glee Club in Oxford next Friday, April 15.

Double act 'Delusionist' is arriving at the Hythe Bridge Street venue for a show from 6.45pm.

The duo is made up of comedian Danny Thompson and magician George Barlow. Tickets cost £6.

The show is suitable for over 18s.

Megan makes her bow

RIDING high on the release of her latest album 'Head Heart Hand', singer-songwriter Megan Henwood will be at the Unicorn Theatre in Abingdon next Thursday, April 14.

By James Richings

The 28-year-old, who grew up in Henley, is visiting the Thames Street venue as part of a small run of shows in the south of England.

The album is Megan's second, following from her first nearly five years previously.

She told the Guardian she didn't want to rush writing material for her next record.

"It was a very cathartic album for me," Megan told the Guardian.

"I took my time to write it as the two years previous had been somewhat of a roller-coaster, so I suppose the changes and experiences I had faced during that time were my main source of inspiration.

"It has dark moments, there is a running theme of the afterlife and the natural world - it's very honest. It means a lot to me to be honest."

The musician has busked in Malaysia, Thailand, India and Nepal as well as parts of Venice to make a name for herself.

And after years of hard work, Megan released her debut album 'Making Waves' in 2011.

On the night she will be supported by fellow Oxfordshire-born musician Nikki Loy.

Megan added: "I was certainly proud and excited [about 'Making Waves' being released] along with many other things," she said.

"It was a difficult time for me so it was hard to concentrate on everything that was going on."

"But I was so grateful to my brother and musicians I met through recording such as Peter Knight and my manager Phil for keeping my head up and helping me enjoy the record release."

Tickets for the gig at the Unicorn Theatre cost £12 and it starts from 7.15pm.

She said: "It is an exhilarating and very humbling experience when you are able to achieve this enriching exchange with an audience.

"It is an indescribable feeling and I have been lucky enough to have played to many attentive, listening audiences.

"And I'm sure that The Unicorn won't disappoint."

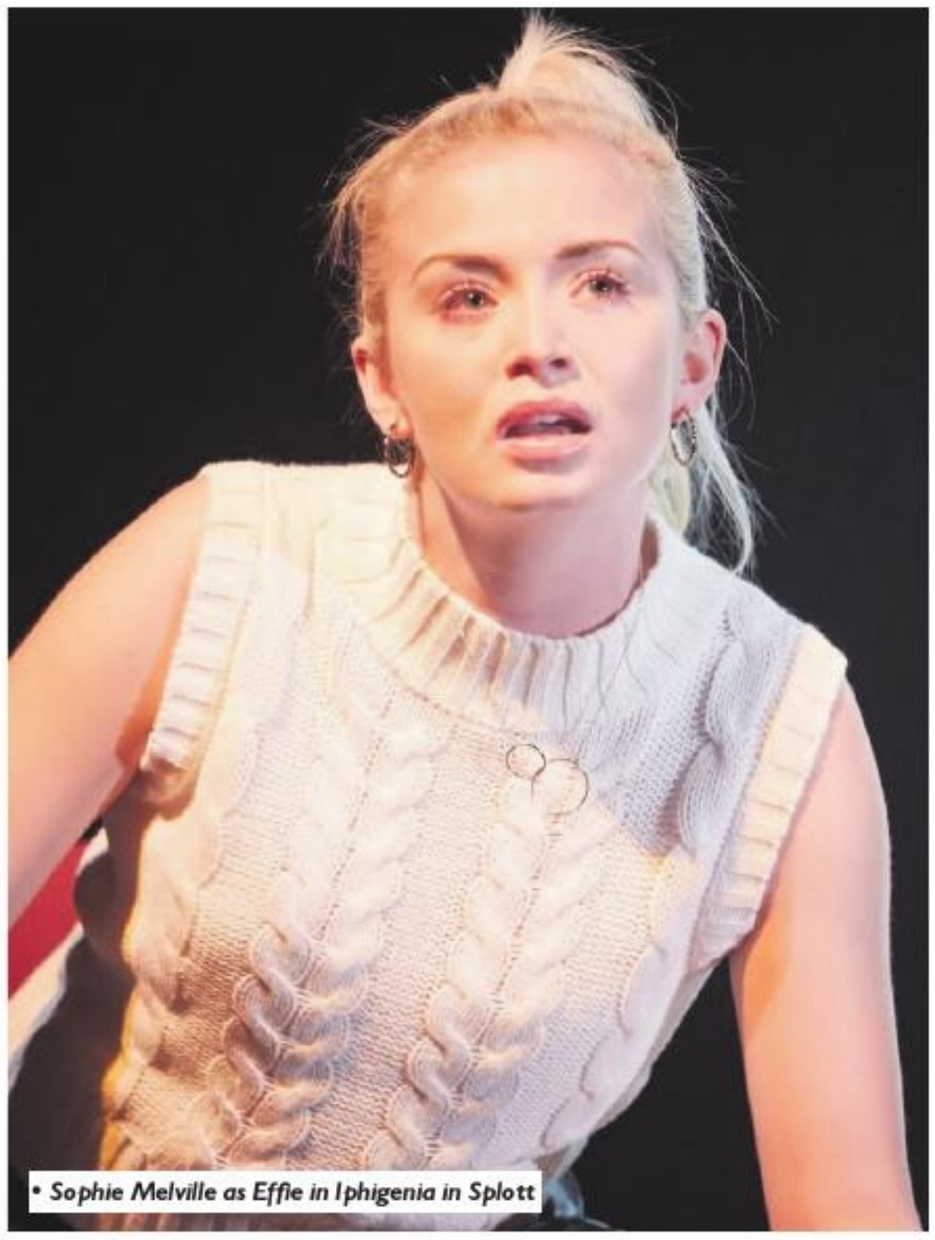
Telling the tale of the impact of welfare cuts



• Sophie Melville as Effie in Iphigenia in Splott

TODAY'S politics will be played out on stage at The North Wall Arts Centre in Oxford with a one-woman show about the impact of cuts.

By James Richings

'Iphigenia in Splott' is inspired by Greek myth and drives home a message about the high price people pay for society's shortcomings through the character of Effie.

It won the 'Best New Play' category at the UK Theatre Awards last year, and will be played in Oxford's South Parade on Monday, April 11 to Tuesday, April 12.

Director Rachel O'Riordan said: "I think it's like an iceberg play.

"It is a very simple story on top but underneath its saying something about the world we live in right now and it's also imagining what might happen if we keep going the way we're going.

"It's unflinching in showing us what we already know but that we might try and avoid, and there are too many Effie's out there, that's the tragedy of it."

After a long run at Cardiff's National Theatre the play has ventured to Newbury, Sheffield, Newcastle and Bristol. Oxford's show will be its penultimate stop.

In Greek myth, Iphigenia is sacrificed by her dad Agamemnon in exchange for smooth sailing conditions to Troy.

"The way more vulnerable people are being treated by the general distribution of wealth is going to create an underclass which is ignored and pushed under," Rachel said.

"It is really a social commentary

"It's about how the people at the bottom of the pile have very little power, and so we're very careless as a society with this demographic: young women and young men who are uneducated and therefore not empowered to make the necessary decisions.

"It's sad and it's vicious. It's funny on occasion but it's quite political."

The play was written my award-winning playwright Gary Owen.

Both shows will start at 8pm and tickets cost £14, or £12 for concessions.

It is suitable for anyone over 14.

THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST
Oscar Wilde's comic masterpiece is brought to the stage with an anarchic twist. It's energetic and full of all the usual coruscating Wildean wit, as well as a few surprises including singing butlers, travel by means of musical montage and a post-interval Hollywood style recap. The Pantaloons are a young, vibrant theatre company whose style draws from a wide variety of popular theatre. In their theatre, the audience's imagination is just as important as the company's, and this show allows ours to run wild(e)! What's to like Classic comedy of manners with razor-sharp dialogue.

ANNIE
Jigsaw Stage Productions are returning to the Cornerstone, Didcot, with a sparkling production of that favourite family show ... Annie, the Musical. Set in 1930s New York during the Great Depression, it tells the story of young Annie, who does not let life at Miss Hannigan's grim orphanage beat her down. Rather she never gives up hope of finding her real parents.
Her luck changes when she is chosen to spend Christmas at the residence of famous billionaire, Oliver Warbucks. Spiteful Miss Hannigan has other ideas and hatches a plan to spoil Annie's search ... The production includes such unforgettable songs as It's a Hard Knock Life, Easy Street and Tomorrow.

THE OWL WHO WAS AFRAID OF THE DARK
Based on the bestselling children's classic by Jill Tomlinson and adapted for the stage by the Blunderbus team, this delightful children's show tells the tale of Plop the baby barn owl.
Plop is exactly the same as every barn owl that has ever been - except for one thing. Plop is AFRAID of the DARK. Follow Plop's adventures as he journeys into the night-time world of campfires, fireworks, starry nights and moonlit adventures.
This gentle, reassuring tale is brought to life with an irresistible blend of music, puppetry and storytelling.

Swing
An international hit, fresh from New York, Paris, Edinburgh and New Zealand. Swing is a comedy about dancing and music and love and not settling and feeling like an eejit and being brave and having doubts and trying your best and trying new things and thinking outside the box and seeing things clearly and living as well as you can and giving it a lash. Laced with fantastic rock and roll music. It'll make you want to dance and fall in love again.

FREEHELD
Scripted by the award winning writer of Philadelphia, this is the true love story of Laurel (Julianne Moore) and Stacie (Ellen Page) and their fight for justice. A decorated police detective, Laurel is diagnosed with cancer and wants to leave her hard earned pension to her domestic partner, Stacie. However the county officials, Freeholders, conspire against this. A struggle for equality and justice begins.

THE JAMES HUNTER SIX
James Hunter is back with his latest album, Hold On! Hunter has been on the scene for enough years to acquire plenty of feathers in his cap: Billboard charts, Grammy nominations, and Van Morrison collaborations.

On top of all this, he has earned an international reputation as a rhythm and blues troubadour for his command of the microphone, both on stage and in studio. This album, however, is something far deeper than just another notch in his belt. It is truly an artist's vision come to fruition.

Peugeot 308 GTi

THIS month's road test puts me in the driving seat of the new Peugeot 308 GTi. Many people have been waiting for the arrival of the 308 GTi for some time - hoping that Peugeot can reignite the flame on the GTi stage.

So, did Peugeot get it right?

Power and efficiency: Let's get straight to the business end shall we? 272bhp and 0-62 in 6.0 seconds, then moving on to a top speed of 155mph.

By Tony Yates

This performance comes from a finely tuned 1.6 litre Turbo petrol engine that sounds like it's trying to escape from its shackles under that brilliantly designed chassis. Fuel economy is also good with a combined 47.1mpg.

On the road: The 308 is a playful sports hatch that is not only powerful and safe, but can also be a practical hatchback.

I am sure that any modern motorist will find it a real giggle. Plus, if it all starts to go wrong, you have the assurance of Peugeot's fantastic ESP program watching over you like a little butler.

So, what makes the 308 a real GTi?

Well, underneath you will find an involving chassis that is dynamic and provides a superb driving sensation.

It's also agile, reactive and has a massive form of balance from one turn to the next. To be honest, it really is a joy to drive.

Design and interior: The 308 GTi offers a first rate experience that is achieved through a combination of interior quality, attention to detail and a wide range of equipment.

There can be no doubting the sportiness in the form of an anthracite-style feel right up to the roof, along with the red stitching features on the dashboard.

Technology: Inside, it's all good. There is plenty of standard kit - like a DAB Radio, duel zone climate control, Bluetooth handsfree, leather steering wheel, electric front windows, colour navigation along with a whole load of kit that would take me ages to write it all out here.

To sum up: I like the Peugeot a lot – it gives you all the things you want from a proper GTi.

Welcome back Peugeot!

PLANNING ACTS

Notice of publication of proposed Beckley and Stowood Neighbourhood Plan, Town and Country Planning(General) Neighbourhood Planning Regulations amended 2015 and Localism Act 2011

Name of proposed Neighbourhood Area
Beckley and Stowood Neighbourhood Plan

Subject matters
Beckley and Stowood Parish Council (as a relevant body) has submitted proposals to undertake a Neighbourhood Plan. The proposed area follows the parish boundaries of Beckley and Stowood.

The Neighbourhood Plan is a way for the town or parish council to help shape how their community develops over the coming years. This is not a formal consultation on the neighbourhood plan, merely the identification of the potential area where the plan is to cover.

View the consultation documents
Copies of the Neighbourhood Plan application are available to view at the district council offices (135 Eastern Avenue, Milton Park, Milton, OX14 4SB) Monday – Thursday 9.00 am – 5.00 pm and Friday 9.00 am – 4.30 pm. You can view the documents online by visiting www.southoxon.gov.uk/neighbourhoodplans and clicking on the Beckley and Stowood link.

How to respond
We are opening a four week consultation period on the application, running from Thursday 7 April to 4:30pm on Thursday 5 May 2016. This is an opportunity to comment on the proposed area.

You can comment using our online consultation system, accessible via the web address above. If you have not already done so, you will need to register to use our system.

Alternatively you can send comments through to planning.policy@southoxon.gov.uk or via post Planning Policy, South Oxfordshire District Council, 135 Eastern Avenue, Milton Park, Milton, OX14 4SB.

The council will use the comments to decide whether the area submitted for the joint plan is suitable or not. Please be aware that all comments received will be made available to the public to view.

Appleton backs fans to aid promotion bid

By Loughlan Campbell

OXFORD United manager Michael Appleton has backed the 33,000-plus fans that supported the U's at Wembley Stadium on Sunday in their 3-2 loss to Barnsley in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy Final.

Yellows supporters made the trip down to North London from Oxfordshire in their thousands via car, coach and train, outnumbering Barnsley fans by more than 9,000 in the stadium.

While the U's couldn't secure the trophy at their first trip to Wembley since the Conference play-off final win over York City in May 2010, the fans sang in full voice throughout the 90 minutes.

Appleton said: "The fans were absolutely outstanding. They were amazing but I would not expect anything different than the response we got.

"We certainly came here with a few more than we usually get and I thought with the performance and belief that some of the players showed, that maybe it will encourage two or three more per cent to come down to the Kassam over the next few games.

"Hopefully we'll be able to give them success over the next three home games."

The U's are embroiled in a tight affair to snatch a spot in the top three in League Two to secure automatic promotion to League One next season.

With six games to go the Yellows are in second, two points clear of Bristol Rovers, Plymouth Argyle and Accrington Stanley in third, fourth and fifth respectively.

Appleton added: "We've got six massive games coming up and hopefully we can use this as some kind of motivation to make sure that we don't have to come back here in the play-offs."

Up next for Oxford is a trip to mid-table side Crawley Town on Saturday before taking on Luton Town at the Kassam Stadium next Saturday

Both game have been billed as must-wins for the U's to book promotion early.

Greens one win away from taking title

A late Jimmy Deabill winner made it seven games without conceding a goal for Kidlington as their 1-0 win over Wokingham & Emmbrook at Yarnton Road on Tuesday night put the greens within one win from promotion.

Martin Wilkinson's side had to wait until the 77th minute to grab the match-winning goal against a resilient Wokingham & Emmbrook side who are set to finish the season bottom of the Hellenic Premier League.

The Greens spurned their fair share of opportunities in the first half with Anaclet Odhiambo and his brother Eric both coming close with efforts from outside the box.

Kidlington were encamped in Wokingham's area but could not find the way though as Lewis Coyle fired wide just before the break. On 72 minutes Deabill entered the field and five minutes later, the Sumas' goal was finally breached when the forward was at the right place at the right time to fire home from three yards after good from Coyle.

If Kidlington win at Lydney Town on Saturday then they will have won the title and sealed promotion to the Southern League Division One South & West.

Smith points run goes on

OXFORD'S Moto GP star Bradley Smith continued his stellar point scoring run in Argentina last weekend where he finished eighth, after dropping back from fourth on the grid.

The 25-year-old came in two places behind Monster Yamaha Tech3 teammate Pol Espargaro.

Smith dropped to the back of the field on the opening lap after he ran wide to avoid contact with another rider.

Despite the rocky start he quickly recovered focus, having gained six places by lap eight.

The eighth place finish is his 26th successive point scoring race.

Smith said: "It was a very challenging race, but to score points is satisfying and the eighth position gives me more determination to finish in a better place next time.

"I was a bit unlucky in the first corner and then again in turn three where I lost numerous positions because I wasn't able to put myself in the right place."

Following the Grand Prix at the Autodromo Termas de Rio Hondo, Smith sits ninth in the championship, one point behind Aspar Honda rider Eugene Laverty.

Espargaro sits three places ahead in sixth.

Smith will hope to extend his strong run at the Grand Prix of the Americas in Austin, Texas this weekend.

United and Barnsley play out Wembley showpiece

By Loughlan Campbell

A SPIRITED Oxford United fell to a second half fight-back by Barnsley FC to lose 3-2 in a thriller Johnstone's Paint Trophy Final at Wembley in front of more than 59,000 fans.

Oxford were by far the stronger outfit in the first half and took a deserved lead on 28 minutes after Callum O'Dowda headed in Alex MacDonald's cross to the 33,000-plus Yellows supporters' delight.

Liam Sercombe then came close after O'Dowda cut the ball in into the midfielder's path before Barnsley's Marc Roberts cleared.

Kemar Roofe then had Oxford's next best challenge with an audacious bicycle kick in the 41st minute that just went wide.

The Tykes came out in the second half with a new lease of life and were back level on 50 minutes when Adam Hammill clipped a ball into the box and U's defender Chey Dunkley headed into his own net under pressure from Barnsley forward Sam Winnall.

Hammill was then denied by a last ditch Johnny Mullins chance after the winger burst down Oxford's left flank.

On 67 minutes Barnsley took the lead through Ashley Fletcher after the U's failed to clear their lines in a scrappy bit of play leaving the forward to tuck the ball home from close range.

Sercombe was then denied by Barnsley 'keeper Adam Davies after a run into the box before Hammill put distance between the two sides with a curling effort from just outside Oxford's box.

However, United roared back just a minute later after Kemar Roofe whipped a cross into the box for Danny Hylton to head home to liven up the tie.

However, Barnsley held on to become the trophy's 24th winner.

Sport Bites

U's defeated

FOOTBALL: Oxford United Women fell to a 2-1 defeat in their second successive loss in FA Women's Super League Two away to Aston Villa last Sunday.

Ini Umotong had given Oxford the lead after seven minutes before Katie Wilkinson and Beth Merrick completed the turn around for Villa.

The U's have a break before playing Durham Women on April 24 at the Northcourt in Abingdon.

Stars bow out

ICE HOCKEY: Oxford City Stars bowed out in the NIHL Division One play-offs at the weekend after losing 5-2 to the Streatham Redskins over two legs.

The Stars had bested the Redskins in the first leg at Oxpens on the Saturday with Ondrej Pekarik grabbing both goals.

However, the Redskins dominated Oxford in the second leg in London on Sunday with Benjamin Ealey-Newman snatching Oxford's goal.

Non league round up

FOOTBALL: Abingdon United fell to a fifth consecutive defeat on Thursday night after losing 1-0 to Lydney Town in the Hellenic Premier League.

Thame United snatched a 1-0 win over Lydney Town on Tuesday in the Bluefin Sports Challenge Cup quarterfinal.

Also in the Hellenic Premier League, saw Milton United snatch a 1-1 draw with Highworth Town at the Recreation Ground on Saturday.

Millers hold Winchester as form improves

NORTH Leigh's form showed signs of improving as they held promotion-chasing Winchester City to a 0-0 draw at the City Ground on Saturday.

Mark Gee's side managed to keep City out with a resilient defence performance and should have taken all three points with a few golden chances spurned.

Jamie Cook hesistated on the ball on 18 minutes when played into space, missing the chance for a shot and the midfielder was then blocked after the restart when he burst into the box.

Jon Else missed a sitter on 70 minutes after he missed the net with a shot from close range and George Seacole was denied by the City 'keeper with five minutes to go.

Meanwhile, Wantage Town were held at Alfredian Park by Wimborne Town in another goalless draw on Saturday.

The result made it six games without a win for Stuart Cattell's side who could still go down with three games left to play.

The Freds' best chance came though Nick Kalakoutis who was played into the box with the Magpies 'keeper out of position however his effort was turned wide from a last minute diving header off the line by Sam Davidson.

The Millers take on Cinderford Town on Saturday at Eynsham Park while Wantage head to Larkhall Athletic.

Plato's new Subaru takes home points

JASON PLATO grabbed some unlikely points in his new Subaru at Brands Hatch against all odds in the British Touring Car Championship (BTCC) opening weekend.

The Oxford racer managed to take home the team's first points after finishing twelfth in race two, grabbing three points for Subaru Team BMR.

Plato's car had only been built and prepared for racing in just 87 days and teammate Warren Scott failed to make it to the grid out of the four team members.

It wasn't the greatest start for Plato in the first race as he qualified in 23rd place and was only able to make up another two places in the race.

However, the second race was a much better story with Plato obtaining a 13th place finish and was unlucky not to finish in the points in the third race, finishing 16th.

Speaking to the TouringCarTimes, Plato said: "We'd have liked to have been a little bit more prepared but that's how it is.

"We wanted to build a great car and that meant if we were late, we're late.

"We've got all year, we've got a three year project and I have no reason to believe it won't go on for years."

Plato returns to action at Donington Park next weekend hoping for more points.

Chinnor snatch win

CHINNOR RFC were able to hold off a late rally from Old Elthamians to grab an 8-point win at home on Saturday in the National League Division Two South

The home side were in fine form in the game's first half with Oscar Heath grabbing two tries while Sam Angell and Jonathan Phipps also crossed.

However, Chinnor also had to deal with a setback after Junior Fatialofa was sin binned, but the score at half-time was 31-14 to the home side.

Chinnor bagged a try straight after the restart through Salva Lloret but then had to ride a strong fight back from the visitors who scored seventeen points in the second half to push the Thame-based side all the way to the final whistle.

Witney RFC made it three wins in a row in the South West 1 East with a 33-7 mauling over Swanage & Wareham on Saturday.

The teams headed into half time at 7-7 with Carl Strutt grabbing Witney's try before the Blues dominated in the second half through tries from George Lewis, Rhys Morgan, David Hyde and Ben Fisk.

Meanwhile, Grove RFC played out a thriller at Cane Lane with a 38-29 win over Leighton Buzzard in the South West 1 East on Saturday to go tenth in the table.

City's play-off hopes whither after third loss

OXFORD CITY's play-off hopes took a battering on Saturday after being swept aside 3-0 by Bishops Stortford at the ProKit UK Stadium.

Bradley Fortnum-Tomlinson bagged a brace for Stortford in the win, which has led to City dropping to ninth in the table.

The play-off bid for Justin Merritt's side is not all over just yet as they only remain five points behind fifth-placed Maidenhead United with five games left to play.

The result made it three losses on the spin for Oxford who fell behind after 32 minutes when Corby Moore grabbed the opener at the third attempt against the run of play.

Oxford were only able to name just three substitutes with youngster Tyriq Hunte on the bench for the first time.

It was two for Stortford after 74 minutes when substitute Fortnum-Tomlinson latched on to a flick from Robbie Willmott and placed the effort past the City 'keeper Laurie Walker to snatch the lead.

The duo linked up again five minutes later to seal the result for the home side when Willmott crossed the ball in for the forward to volley in the third.

Up next for the Blues is game against lowly Hayes and Yeading United on Saturday at Court Place Farm.

Only a win can keep their play-off hopes alive.

Saints tame Bulls ahead of Sharks

By Loughlan Campbell

OXFORD Saints prepared for this weekend's season opener against the Cornish Sharks with a 24-16 victory over the Birmingham Bulls.

The Abingdon-based side travelled to the Midlands to take on an opponent that lies in the higher Midlands Football Conference 1, taking home the spoils with a strong performance in Erdington.

Oxford's debut quarterback Destin Maulding was given the MVP (most valuable player) for the Saints with the newcomer putting in a solid shift.

Rookie Sam Fielden was also a standout player in the encounter, kicking three PATs (extra points) and a field goal without missing any of his kicks.

The Saints' veteran lineman Clive Russell was also acclaimed in the contest, grabbing the offence's MVP title while rookie line-backer Eric Mendoza was also named defence MVP in his debut for Oxford.

Oxford will take to the field on Sunday against the Sharks for the first time at their new home venue of Tilsley Park in Abingdon.

Previously the Saints had played home games at Abingdon Rugby Club in Lambrick Way but decided to make the move to the north of the town to the park in Dunmore Road over the summer.

The Saints bested the Sharks over both games in the regular season last year, thrashing the Newquay-based side 43-24 at Lambrick Way last May before narrowly taking home the win in a 13-12 scoreline at the Treviglas Sports Hub in July.

Oxford finished just above the Sharks last season in the SFC West Division II table with the Saints going on to be thrashed 50-13 in the playoffs by Sussex Thunder.

After the Sharks' encounter is a trip to the Saints' main rivals for the division title, Bristol Apache who finished above Oxford last year claiming the title.

Star quarterback Ben Denton is a member of the roster for the season but due to his treatment for his leukaemia, is not expected to play a role into later in the season.

The game at Tilsley Park kicks off at 2.30pm with the Saints being able to draw on a 90-strong roster for the game.
